AIRPORT CAFÉ SET FOR MAKEOVER

Mount Isa Airport has this week commenced construction works in the terminal café.

The works, which will include an upgrade to the café's kitchen and seating area, are expected to be completed next month.

Mount Isa Airport Chief Operating Officer Kevin Gill said when completed the works will complement the newly refurbished terminal.

"The feedback from our passengers regarding the terminal's refurbishment has been extremely positive, and we look forward to providing them with a new and improved café.

"Once completed, our passengers will notice an expansion of the menu to include hot food options such as bacon and eggs, burgers and fish and chips," Mr Gill said.

The café will remain open throughout the work, with a reduced range of food and beverages.

Mr Gill said Core Constructions from Townsville will be completing the work, with assistance from local contractors.

"We thank our passengers in advance for their patience throughout this period and we look forward to opening the new café next month," Mr Gill said.
